

Tatiana's Journey with Batik

Through batik, Tatiana brings to life the magic and diversity of her birth place: Colombia. One can immerse in the vibrant colors of her art pieces and be captivated by the beauty of her exotic flowers, enchanted by the images of the people that inhabit the Andes Mountains, transported through the mystic fauna and flora of the Amazon Rainforest, or delighted by the colors and shape fruits ripened by the tropical sun.

Tatiana allows the natural pigments to take shape on the plain cotton fabrics, she then adds delicate and unique details into each piece. Once the pain and fabric are dry Tatiana uses pure bee's wax to fix the colors onto the fabrics.

Tatiana has found in Batik a way to capture the essence of the beauty and goodness found in nature and transmits it to the world, enlightening hearts of those who encounter her art.

Born in 1959, Tatiana remembers being attracted to the effects that beauty and color can have over a human's soul. Thus, she decided to take private art classes and learning the basic form of batik. Since then and over the last 20 years she has been perfecting and modifying the basic form of batik into her own technique.
